

EUROPEUM Institute for European Policy in cooperation with Glopolis and Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung Prague, under the auspices of the UN Information Centre Prague, present the agenda of the project:

Prague Climate Talks: The future of coal in Central Europe

16:00 - 17:30, Thursday 19th April 2018
European House, Jungmannova 24, Prague 1

Martin Hájek

Director,
Association for the District Heating,
Czech Republic

Kathrin Gutmann

Campaign Director,
Europe Beyond Coal

Andreas Piwek

former Head of Economic Development,
Gelsenkirchen Municipality,
Germany

The debate will be moderated by Christian K. Lassen, EUROPEUM Institute for European Policy

Please register at bit.ly/PCTno4 or contact us via europeum@europeum.org.
The lecture will be followed by a Q&A session. Refreshments will be provided.

The emissions from mining and burning of coal are among the largest contributors to global climate change. Moreover, the negative impacts on human health are palpable – coal kills over 19,000 Europeans every year. What are the plans for future coal usage in the Central European countries (especially the Czech Republic, Poland and Slovakia)? How will politics affect the future of this fossil material? And what steps are needed to ensure a smooth and fair transition to the post-coal era?

Co-funded by the Europe for Citizens Programme of the European Union