National Convention on the EU: response to the US Inflation Reduction Act

Welcome to the second newsletter of May.

Europe Day took place on Friday, May 5. In addition to the activities at our stand, where visitors could learn more about our work and compete in a quiz, we also co-organized a debate within Café Evropa, this time on the topic: "Crazy and young science in the Czech Republic - we have something to be proud of". The invitation was accepted by Adéla Chalupová, nuclear engineer, and Markéta Klíčová, Ph.D. student in the field of nanotechnology, Technical University of Liberec. The debate was moderated by Petr Koubský, Deník N.

As part of the World of Books festival, on May 11, we co-organized the debate Café Evropa on the topic "Artificial intelligence: opportunity or threat?". How to approach the phenomenon of artificial intelligence and its use in literature? This and more were addressed by the guests Tereza Bartoníčková, founder and director, Internet Institute, Petr Tureček, evolutionary biologist and poet and Marcel Kolaja, Member of the European Parliament, Pirates, The Greens/European Free Alliance, who contributed to the debate with a pre-recorded video. The debate was moderated by Klára Vlasáková. You can watch the debate on Facebook page Café Evropa here.

Thank you for subscribing.

Fotoreport: Pub Quiz and Discussion - Europe in the Whirlwind

On May 15, a pub quiz called "Europe in the whirlwind of events" took place in Brno at the Garden Food Concept.

The guests were Markéta Gregorová, Member of the European Parliament, Pirates, Greens/EFA and Vít Hloušek, head of the Institute, International Institute of Political Science, FSS MUNI.

The quiz was moderated by Aneta Zachová, editor-in-chief, EURACTIV.cz

The quiz was followed by an informal debate with the guests.

We thank all participants and congratulate the winners!
